

Atkinson Family Library Scholar Internship

HUMBOLDT STATE UNIVERSITY
SPECIAL COLLECTIONS

Application Deadline December 7, 2018

About Us

Special Collections serves as a unique space for the acquisition and preservation of the University and Humboldt County history and aims to provide access to these collection materials to a wide research audience that ranges from HSU students and faculty, to the general public.

To sample our unique collections, we encourage you to visit the Special Collections website.

Contact Information

Louis Knecht
Special Collections Librarian
Email:

louis.knecht@humboldt.edu
(707) 826-4072

Special Collections Website:
<http://library.humboldt.edu/humco>

Position Description

Special Collections invites currently enrolled HSU students to apply for the Atkinson Family Library Scholar Internship for Spring 2019. This semester-long paid internship offers students an opportunity to:

Gain invaluable hands-on experience in work involving public history, university archives, and museum studies as a professional.

Conduct archival research.

Learn the breadth of digitization projects, including the proper handling and care of fragile objects and organizational skills with digital files.

Develop a website using the Omeka digital platform, an online content management system for digital exhibits.

Build a portfolio that meets archival professional standards of arrangement, description, and access.

Undergraduate and Graduate students are eligible to apply. Interested applicants should look on the HSU Library website for more details at library.humboldt.edu/internships/atkinson .